

OPEN POSITIONS

RESEARCH FACULTY POSITIONS IN PLANT SCIENCES AND RELATED FIELDS

Center for Research and Advanced Studies
(Centro de Investigación y de Estudios Avanzados, Cinvestav)
Irapuato Unit, Guanajuato, Mexico

Cinvestav-Irapuato invites applications from outstanding young investigators for full-time academic positions at the assistant or associate professor level. Successful applicants will establish and maintain an externally funded innovative research program in Plant Sciences or related disciplines, and contribute to both the teaching and training of graduate students. Applicants must have a Ph.D. degree, at least two years of relevant postdoctoral training and notable scientific accomplishments. Basic knowledge of the Spanish language is desirable for non-native speakers.

Cinvestav-Irapuato Unit has 30 faculty members (37% women) leading research groups in four main research areas:

1. Plants and their interactions with other organisms and the environment;
2. Regulation, development and metabolism;
3. Ecology, genomics and evolution;
4. Computational biology and bioinformatics.

with a focus on food security and sustainable agriculture in drylands.

Applicants are encouraged to develop innovative and cutting-edge research plans addressing such areas. Further information about the Institute can be found at: <https://ira.cinvestav.mx/>

Please submit your application per email as a single PDF file that would include: a cover letter highlighting the applicant's scientific achievements and research area (max. 1 page), proposed research plan (max. 3 pages), curriculum vitae that includes the name, position and contact details of three potential referees, as well as electronic copies of the three most important publications.

Send please your application to the following emails:

maria.roa@cinvestav.mx
laila.partida@cinvestav.mx

Applications will be received until January 31st, 2024.

Selected candidates will be invited to Cinvestav-Irapuato to carry out seminars and interviews with faculty and community members.

Decisions will be communicated in April 2024 and positions will be available from May 2024.